

RESEARCH INTERESTS

I obtained my Ph.D. in Innovation Management, with a research focus on the full cycle of “Research Collaboration – New Knowledge Creation – Patenting – Commercialization.” My expertise lies in applying Natural Language Processing (NLP) and Large Language Models (LLMs) to the preprocessing and analysis of large-scale textual corpora, including web pages and patent documents. In addition, I explore topics in economic geography, particularly knowledge spillovers and the development of regional innovation ecosystems, employing tools such as ArcGIS for spatial analysis. My specific research interests include, but are not limited to:

- Regional innovation systems and regional economic transformation
- University-driven knowledge spillovers to high-tech startups
- Regional green innovation and low-carbon development
- Construction of patent novelty and impact indicators
- Applications of LLMs in innovation management
- Urban development & landuse, and innovation ecosystem

EDUCATION

University of Tokyo

Tokyo, Japan

Doctor of Engineering in Technology Management for Innovation

Apr 2022 – Mar 2025

Advisor: Prof. Motohashi Kazuyuki

Thesis: Semantic Change-Driven Patent Innovation Measurement: Integrating Content and Citation Network Indicators and Its Empirical Study on Market Value

Beijing University of Posts and Telecommunications

Beijing, China

Master of Engineering in Computer Science & Information Security

Sept 2017 – Jun 2020

Advisor: Prof. Yang Wenchuan

Thesis: Discovery and Research of Frequent Item in Interdiscipline Based on Deep Learning

Beijing University of Posts and Telecommunications

Beijing, China

Bachelor of Engineering in Computer Science & Information Security

Sept 2013 – Jun 2017

Advisor: Prof. Liu Liang

Thesis: Design and Implementation of Chaotic Compressive Sensing Algorithm
